I also decided to categorize the articles according to what they are about. The following list shows the categories I decided on. If the article discusses more than one of these topics the most prominent topic goes first with the other following after a period. For example, if the article was mostly about Digital Resources but also discussed Music faculty and Google.com its number would be 2.34. After the number I included the first two letters of author’s last name and last two letters of the year the article was published.

What does the article discuss?

Library Catalog or cataloging = 1

Digital Resources = 2

Faculty, or Library Department = 3

World Wide Web = 4

Information Literacy = 5
